ST. LOUIS MOOSERS FORM WILSON CLUB

Will leave Quarters To-Day—Claude Mause Says 13,000 Will Vote Against Hughes

St. Louis, Oct. 22.—Prominent local Bull Moosers, who refuse, as they say, to be delivered over to the reactionaries by Col. Theodore Roosevelt, last night at the Planters Hotel organized the Progressive Party Wilson Club.

Downtown headquarters will be leased today and every Progressive in St. Louis and St. Louis County who resents the action of Roosevelt, and will support Wilson for re-election is invited to join the club.

Claude Mause, former secretary of the Progressive City Committee, was elected president of the new club. Frederick W. Lucke, vice president, D. H. Christie, treasurer, and J. H. Crawford, secretary. The following committees were selected: Executive—Judge Albert D. Hinton, J. D. Schilling, Charles L. Stueffels, L. M. Voelkel and J. Q. Brown. Finance—J. C. Hingdon, D. A. Christie, Frederick W. E. Lucke and Claude Mause. Membership—Otto G. Koehring, Percy Stone, Henry L. Higdon and George M. Berger. Organization—L. G. Archard, A. L. McCray, M. F. Muggan and Lester Virga.

President Mause said there were 17,000 Progressives in this city and St. Louis County who would not support Hughes.

VICTOR MURDOCK, WHO BOLTED G. O. P. IS NOW OUT FOR WILSON

Wichita, Kan., Oct. 22.—Victor Murdock (Prog.), who bolted the convention when his party decided to "make up" with the Republicans, is off the fence. In a long editorial, Mr. Murdock's Wichita Eagle this morning comes out for Woodrow Wilson. Since the convention both old parties have exerted efforts to get the former Kansas Congressman to join with them, and just before he sailed for China, several weeks ago, he announced he was "on the fence." The announcement today is printed under the caption, "Wilson and Capper."

Capper is the Republican Governor of Kansas. Making it plain that it is no defection to the Democratic party, the article says that Wilson is more progressive than Hughes, and urges votes for the Democratic nominee, not because he is a Democrat, but in spite of the fact that he is a Democrat. Hughes, the editorial says, has shown a spirit of mollycoddling on big issues, and has openly sought votes of hyphenated Americans.

HUGHES ELECTOR QUITS WEST VIRGINIA TICKET

Coal Operator Says Republican Victory Would Turn Country Over To 'Invisible Government.'

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 21.—J. W. Dawson of Charleston, coal operator, in a letter to State Chairman Joseph H. Gaines of the Republican State Committee, has asked that his name as a Hughes elector-at-large be withdrawn from the Republican ticket.

"I have been a great admirer of Judge Hughes since the insurance investigation in New York years ago," says Dawson in his letter. "I was for him originally when Mr. Taft was nominated and elected President, and at that time hoped some day to see Judge Hughes President of this country, but I was at Chicago during the Republican convention in June; I have read Mr. Hughes' public addresses with a great deal of anxiety; I do not find in them any good reason why we should change administrations at Washington at this critical period."

"And when summing up the entire situation I am convinced, whether correctly or not, that Judge Hughes occupies the same position toward the National Republican party that Judge Robinson (Republican candidate for Governor of West Virginia) does toward the Republican party of West Virginia, and that to vote for Judge Hughes would in fact be assisting to turn over the United States and the destinies of these 100,000,000 people to the corrupt 'Old Guard,' dominated, controlled absolutely by such men as Barnes, Penrose, Crane and Smoot, and I will never be a party to such treachery to our country."

"That crowd, I believe, if Judge Hughes became President, would dominate and control the destinies of this country solely in the interest of what is popularly called 'invisible government' which knows no political party, no loyalty to country, recognizes the right of no private citizen and whose only objects are to enrich and place power in the hands of a favored few."

TIMELY AND GIVES BACK POSITION

"Tanlac Put Me On the Job Again," Atchison Man Frankly Declares.

Atchison, Kan., Oct. 23.—"I certainly am grateful to Tanlac, it put me back on the job," Earl Van Liew, who lives at 709 S. street, this city, declared on September 17.

"I suffered from stomach trouble and I also was very nervous," Mr. Van Liew continued. "My entire system was in a general run-down condition. I became so weak two months ago I was forced to give up my position. I had no appetite. Nervousness bothered me so that I could not sleep at night. I felt badly all over. I read about Tanlac in the papers and decided to give this new medicine a trial. I've taken three bottles of Tanlac now and I'm gaining weight and strength every day. My appetite has improved and I can eat anything I care for. The nervousness has left me and I rest fine at night now. I've improved so that I'm able to work again. I certainly am grateful to Tanlac. It has put me back on the job again."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, nervousness, and is a fine strength builder, giving strength to weak, run down men and women. Tanlac is now being especially introduced and explained in Cox & Co's Drug Store. Adv.&w.

TAKING HONEY FROM THE HIVE

Taking surplus honey is not robbing the bees, though that term is often applied to it. Where bees are properly cared for they collect more honey than they need and give it over to man without complaint or struggle when man takes it in the proper manner. If he cuts a bee tree or slits open a gum or box-hive and attempts to steal their supply of food, as well as the surplus, then the bees do object.

Surplus honey should be taken from the supers before cold weather to avoid chilling the bees, but on warm days, even late in the fall, if the bees are still working, honey may be taken where for any reason it has not been removed earlier.

Honey is produced in three forms, depending upon the bee-keeper and the type of hive. Some work for section or comb honey, others merely cut out the comb honey in chunks, while others use an extractor for throwing the honey out of the combs, when the combs are returned to the bees for refilling. Section honey can be produced only where a movable comb hive is used and the sections full of honey are simply removed from the hive when filled and capped. Chunk honey may be taken from bee trees, gums, box-hives or movable frame hives. The hive is simply opened and the surplus supply cut out in chunks and stored in cans or jars. Extracted honey, and that is the type of honey which is most suitable for immediate use on the table, is removed from the chunks by means of an extractor where movable hives are in use.

To move surplus honey select a warm day and work rapidly as possible so as to avoid exposing the honey to robbers. Also be careful not to avoid spilling or smearing honey about the hive or ground as it always encourages robbing, the most undesirable trait of bees. Above all remember to remove only surplus honey and leave the brood chamber strictly alone.—L. Haseman, Missouri College of Agriculture.

GOOD POLITICAL MEETINGS

In conversation with Jake Davis, candidate for prosecuting attorney, we were informed that the Democratic county candidates are having very successful meetings wherever they speak. The meetings are enthusiastic and they are receiving much encouragement.

MAKING A WINNING CANVAS

The indications thus far point to the election of the entire Democratic ticket of Barry county in November. The ticket is a good one from top to bottom and no mistake will be made if the whole ticket goes through without a break.

MONETT STUDENT IN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY HONORED

Herron Westbay, of Monett, a student in mechanical engineering in the University of Illinois, has been honored recently in being chosen as a representative of the University to confer with officials of the Illinois Central Railroad Company. The Company has been dissatisfied with the type of engine being now used by them in Kentucky and applied to the University for them to send a student in the mechanical department to confer with them in regard to the best type of engine to be used in that section. Mr. Westbay was selected as the most competent one to advise with them in this question. Herron's propensity for studying locomotives is well known here and his study is bearing fruit.

He was recently selected a member of the Pi Psi Sigma, a mechanical honorary fraternity. Of fifty-five students only eight were eligible, Mr. Westbay being one of the eight.

VILLA LEADS CARRANZA VANGUARD INTO AMBUSH

El Paso, Oct. 23.—Francisco Villa led the Carranza vanguard under Gen. Carlos Ozueta into an ambush between Santa Ysabel and San Andres on the western division of the Mexican Northwestern railroad Friday, a report received here today stated.

According to this report, which was obtained by secret service agents for the federal government, Villa retreated from a position outside of San Andres, 40 miles off the railroad west of Chihuahua, City, toward San Andres. The bandits, who were hidden in the rocky defiles along the railroad poured a heavy fire into the Carranza troops, the reports said.
